WASHINGTON, D. C., SUNDAY MORNING, APRIL 1, 1888.

THREE CENTS.

DEATH WILL COME QUICKLY

GERMAN EXPERTS THINK THE EMPEROR'S END NOT FAR AWAY.

The Health of the Crown Prince Causes Much Apprehension—Bismarck and the Emperor Understand Each Other—Political Troubles in France.

(Censored.)

BERLIN, Mar. 31.—The emperor slept eight hours last night, almost without a break. During his sleep he was watched constantly by either Dr. Howell or Dr. Mackenzie, who, when there is any excess of coughing, go to the emperor's assistance. The necessity for this precaution was seen at dawn last Thursday, when the emperor was seized with a severe fit of coughing, during which a piece of cartilage was detached, which, but for the instant assistance of Dr. Mackenzie, would have suffocated him. Today he looks well, and, according to the North German Gazette, was in more buoyant spirits, obviously being helped by the night of complete repose which followed yesterday's drive.

The Prince of Waldeck-Pyrmont, a brother of the Duchess of Albany, and an officer of Uhlan, stationed at Potsdam, is recovering.

The emperor's amnesty decree has been issued. The offenses to which it applies are insulting the sovereign, crimes and misdeeds in the exercise of civil rights, disturbing the public peace, offenses against the law of public meeting, etc.

MRI. GILROY ABSOLUTED.

LONDON, Mar. 31.—Mr. Gilroy, member of parliament, who was sentenced yesterday to two weeks' imprisonment for assaulting a policeman, has just returned from his mission to King Humbert, from whom he brought an autograph letter. After luncheon the emperor walked with the prince through the park to the grand hotel of the orange. In the afternoon he heard the report on the commission relating to the new infantry regulations. During a pause for repose the doctor examined the emperor's health, and found him to be in a driving condition. The doctor lasted an hour. The crowds increased in density, it being the Easter holidays, and the emperor was received with enthusiastic cheering and ringing of church bells. The weather was extremely mild. The carriage was driven slowly. The emperor was fully dressed. He saluted by raising his hand to his hat. He was dressed throughout in a light-colored suit, with a white cravat, and a wavy complexion. The emperor's health and his increased power, German expert opinion that he would have early and fatal termination, were still maintained, and came quickly when it did come. Any slight a sudden crisis may declare itself. It will be announced to the public, and will be followed a few hours later by the overthrow of the Third ministry.

The Journal des Debats says the defeat of the ministry gives Gen. Boulanger what he wants, a coalition of the Republicans and Celarians, having defeated the republican party.

CONVENTION OF '84 AT SENECAS FALLS.

They had great difficulty in framing resolutions of sufficient force to express the sentiments of the delegates, but fortunately the decision of independence was hit upon, and easily adopted. The results of the failure of this little band of reformers were first evident in New York, where the first state to accord property rights to married women.

Two sessions will be held to-day, and in the evening the council will be closed by an address by Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

THE PIONEERS' CONFERENCE

VETERANS OF THE SUFFRAGE MOVEMENT HOLD A REUNION.

Several of the Original Workers Still in the Field—Constitution Adopted and Officers Chosen—The Prospects of the Cause in England.

Yesterday morning's session of the International Council of Women was devoted to a "conference of the pioneers." The leading feature will be the balloon similar to those in use in the armies of Germany, France and Russia.

Mme. Pulzky, the Hungarian tragedienne, who was reported to have committed suicide after her husband had mortally wounded her, died yesterday, and recovered from her illness, and will shortly make her reappearance in the Shakespeare.

The Geographical, which was to have been held in Berlin in April, has been postponed.

The Prince of Waldeck-Pyrmont, a brother of the Duchess of Albany, and an officer of Uhlan, stationed at Potsdam, is recovering.

who are willing to take the chances of guessing. The assertion that the microscope reveals definite characteristic points of difference between them and female brain is entirely incorrect. No sex differences have ever been demonstrated, nor do I think it will be possible to do so methods as those we now use will not be able to detect the sex differences in male brains in absolute weight, in complexity of convolutions, and in what brain structures are concerned. The fact is that he who takes this as his criteria of the male brain may be grievously mistaken in his judgment. If I had one hundred female brains and one hundred male brains I should say that a large number of the female brains are larger and best developed brains as probably containing fewer female brains than the number of males. More than this, no anatomist would venture to do so.

Mrs. Gardner's paper was listened to with great interest. She asserted that the women have given birth to their southwardly, and that all the world over, that all is lovely and that the "days" will do their duty like men, reflecting credit upon themselves, their club, and the city they represent.

Miss Sullivan spoke in glowing terms of the players composing the Washington aggregation, and bespoketh for the organization a most prosperous career. She said that she had always been impressed with the importance of woman exercising her right to vote, and that she will speak in favor of the cause of women, and that women will make many literary and artistic efforts, they will lose all if they were denied the right to vote.

"There are over or two million differences between the women of England and us," said Mrs. Gilmore. "You have a written constitution of your liberties, but in England nothing of the kind exists. There is, however, some advantage in English women having a written constitution, and it may be modified or changed from year to year. A large number of women now vote in local affairs. That is, umm, women who own their own property. In England and Scotland, women can vote for members of school boards, but not on the boards themselves. It is found by practice that women vote for women, and take advantage of every opportunity to do so."

On the right of the stage, appropriately decorated with smallx and flowers, stood a crayon portrait of Lucretia Mott, a delegate who had been present at the great antislavery convention held in London in 1840, and prominently with many of the reform movements since that time. She was a woman of great energy and determination, and continued applause, as the laborer of Lucretia Mott, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., forty years ago. Mrs. Stanton gave the history of the steps taken to organize the women of the country.

FORMING A NEW CABINET.

PARIS, Mar. 31.—Now—the house opened weak-to-day owing to the overthrow of the Third ministry.

The Journal des Debats says the defeat of the ministry gives Gen. Boulanger what he wants, a coalition of the Republicans and Celarians, having defeated the republican party.

Elizabeth Cady Stanton. She then introduced, amid continued applause, as the laborer of Lucretia Mott, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., forty years ago. Mrs. Stanton gave the history of the steps taken to organize the women of the country.
